

PRESS RELEASE

Culinary Students Cultivate First-Class Gingerbread Treehouse

Wayne, NJ – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Passaic County Technical Institute’s (PCTI) Culinary Arts students have been hard at work preparing a treat that showcases creativity and exemplifies the up-and-coming holiday spirit. Students put the finishing touches magnificent gingerbread treehouse.

Created out of marzipan, chocolate, candy, and of course gingerbread, the construct stands nearly four feet in height and is on display in the high school’s main lobby where faculty and students alike can admire the amazing craftsmanship.

Photo Caption 0242: PCTI students Nicole Viecco (Paterson), J. Alex Ortiz (Paterson), Sarah Raigoza (Paterson), and Desiree Rodriguez (Clifton) work on the one-of-a-kind gingerbread treehouse.